A GREAT GAS STRIKE

The American Company Brings in the Biggest Well Yet.

There is no longer any question but that this is one of the greatest gas fields in the country.

Stock in the American Natural Gas and Fuel company has gone out of sight. The shareholders are celebrating a double victory—the passage of the ordinance over the mayor's veto and the big gas strike made on Tuesday.

The company has drilled four wells at Lake Shore, but owing to the treacherous formation of the strata covering the gas it has been almost impossible to tap the gas so as to hold the gas in and prevent leakage. The first find of gas was at a depth of 200 feet, and this was viewed with suspicion by all expert gas men, as it was believed to be too near the surface of the ground to prove permanent. Natural gas was found in Indiana at a depth of about 1,000 feet and in Ohio 1,200 feet below the surface of the ground. It has been demonstrated that the greater the distance of the gas from the surface the greater the rock pressure, or the coarser, which it exerts in forcing itself through the surface. It is this force which carries it through pipes at great distances and makes it possible to utilize it as a fuel.

The reason why capitalists have held back from investing in this gas field was owing to the fact that the gas was found so near the surface.

Tuesday's discovery was of the greatest importance.

As it demonstrates to a certainty that there is a great reservoir of gas 300 feet below the surface. Well No. 4 had been drilled to a depth of over eight hundred feet several weeks ago but the company was unable to bring it in until they secured clamps for fastening the pipe down. These were received on Tuesday and the drill was dropped to tap the covering. The gas was then encountered and it came tearing up at a frightful velocity, making a roar that could be heard for miles away. The earth was actually rocked by agitation, being it is really receiving the gas came out with such force that it wore off iron as if it was tallow. A pair of iron tongs used to hold the pipe in place was actually worn away as if it had been melted in a furnace.

This discovery of a great reservoir of gas 300 feet below the surface is of incalculable value to this city as it will now be able to secure the necessary capital to construct a pipe line.

Turn on the gas.

IN GOOD CONDITION.

The Showing Made by Z. B. and B. S.

A dividend of 912 Per Cent. Declared—The Election of Officers—Assets and Liabilities.

At the ninth annual meeting of Zion's Benefit and Building society, the following officers were elected:

T. G. Webster, president; William H. Rowe, vice-president; L. S. Hill, treasurer; Thomas W. Sloan, secretary. Directors: H. J. Grant, Arthur Parsons, Elias A. Smith, W. J. Bateman, A. W. Carlson, O. A. Swan, Thomas Hull, Ralph S. Wells, Oliver Holgren, Arnold Gnanque, Edgar Howe, Audron-J. H. Burrows, David McKenna, James M. Barrow.

A general statement of the condition of the society made the following exhibit:

ASSETS.
Cash receivable	$205,270.00
Cash	24.14
Debit interest	62.25
Debiting fines	30.45
Total	$205,386.84

LIABILITIES.
Subscriptions	$29,619.00
Dividends	35,300.34
Reserves	8,409.05
Unpaid profits	1,017.10
Total	$74,335.49

A dividend of 912 per cent. for the year was declared, thus enabling borrowers to hasten the payment of their obligations, and adding to the maturing of the stock of other members.

It was decided by the meeting that the by-laws be changed for the accommodation of those members who are desirous of borrowing money to erect homes but who are unable to do so owing to the pressure upon the borrowing capacity of the society. The contemplated amendment will enable the directors to hypothecate the trust funds in its possession, and borrow on them an additional $50,000 in separate sums of $25,000 each. In this way the usefulness of the organization will be enlarged.

THE MAYOR IN A MESS

The Fight Between His Honor and the Councilors.

The saloon men are after making life a burden for his honor.

The action of the city council on Tuesday evening, whereby the mayor received four very distinct snubs was read with a great deal of interest and freely commented upon yesterday.

The general impression among those seen seemed to be that the mayor had thrown down the gauntlet by his treatment of the police committee and the four councilors, and that the council had decided to take it.

There is a pretty fight on, and it now looks as though the mayor would come out second best.

Mayor's feast of his honor in the council chamber on Tuesday night struck a responsive chord in many a breast yesterday, and he was the recipient of many complimentary remarks for his manly and straightforward course in the matter.

The sympathy of the greater portion of the community has been and now is with the councilors who composed that "half-constituted snuffing committee."

The saloon-keepers are also up in arms and eager for an opportunity to lay their hands on the mayor. "The road to honor on Tuesday night will not be a marker to that which he will get from us in the very near future," said one of the saloon men yesterday.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

A Pure Cream Tartar Powder

ROYAL

ONE SPOON

Dr. Price gives larger and fuller cans than those of any other Baking Powder manufacturer.

Above cut represents the comparative size of one pound can each "Dr. Price's," "Royal" and "Taylor's One Spoon." These cans, set side by side, then photographed down in exact proportion to admit the plate in this space. Ask your grocer to set a one pound can of any other brand alongside 1 lb. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, and observe the difference, as illustrated above.

Adulterated powders may usually be detected by their heavier bulk, as shown by the small cans, and these scantily filled, often containing a circular to help fill out the cans. It is a singular fact that many of the ammonia and alum baking powders are advertised as "Absolutely Pure." All official examinations prove that it would be safe to reject all powders labeled absolutely pure.

The economy in using Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not consist alone in the fact that much larger and fuller cans are given, but Dr. Price's is a stronger, purer and more wholesome baking powder than any other known. Does better work, and goes farther, hence more economical in every way.

What woman would use an ammonia or alum baking powder if she knew it? Such powders not only undermine the health, but ammonia gives to the complexion a sallow and blotched appearance.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from ammonia, alum, lime, or any other adulterant. The purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

AIMED AT HIS HEART

Joseph Kent Tries to Kill L. Hendrick.

Kent Claims That Hendrick Affected His Wife's Affections and Caused Her to Desert Her Baby Boy.

Last evening at about 6 o'clock Officer Harry Post was called to the residence of Joseph Kent, who requested that a man be arrested. "But what for?" asked the officer. "What for after you've got him," was the reply.

The officer walked with Kent across the street to Smith's drug store. There three men were sitting on a pile of boxes. Kent and the officer approached them. Kent suddenly cried: "There's a—that I am after," and immediately fired.

The man shot at was L. Hendrick. As he rose to his feet in a rather dazed condition, Kent begged the officer to let him have another chance at Hendrick. Ford, however, was quick enough to wrench the gun from Kent, thus undoubtedly saving Hendrick's life. Hendrick and Kent were both taken in custody. When Hendrick's wound was examined it was found to be of a serious nature. The ball entered at the fleshy part of the arm near the elbow joint and passed obliquely to the inner side of the arm, and it could be easily felt. A decision as to whether it will be extracted or not has not yet been arrived at.

THE CASE OF THE TROUBLE.

The parties to this case represent two vocations that are often treated lightly by the newspapers. Kent was a book agent and Hendrick a sewing machine agent.

The sewing machine agent took a fancy to the book agent's wife and he used to go down to see her. Kent said his visits became so frequent that he remonstrated with his wife, but she explained it all away by saying that Hendrick had a nice voice and she liked to hear him sing. When Kent was alone in the time singing, but when Kent was absent they are said to have put in the time singing. All of a sudden Kent discovered that his wife did not love him as she used to, and he was never happy unless the sewing machine agent was about. Kent concluded that she had been seduced by him, and he notified Hendrick to stop again but his foot over his shoulder or he would have paid the penalty. Now that Hendrick could not come to see Kent's wife, he made it convenient to go to see him.

On the fourth of July he said to her husband: "Now, my dearie, you'll stay home and tend the baby, while you, because I want to go to the lake!" Kent stayed at home like a good little man, while his worst enemy went to the lake, supposedly, to see the sewing machine agent. Some of the neighbors brought home ugly stories of how Hendrick played the lover all over Garfield. They went about arm in arm and were "sappy" as a couple of young lovers. And they were wicked, too, for they were said to have occupied the same bathroom.

It was this story that convinced Kent that Hendrick was too intimate with his wife. The sewing machine agent visited Mrs. Kent with a lot of fairy stories, and one time he said he had thousands of dollars in bank. The wife would look at him and say: "You're a liar!" and he would say: "I'm not a liar, I'm a book agent!" and he would say: "I'm not a book agent, I'm a book agent!" and he would say: "I'm not a book agent, I'm a book agent!"

AMUSEMENTS.

WILD AMERICA.

Wild America is the wild western entertainment organized according to the ideas of and personally superintended by the founder, Dr. W. F. Carver, "the Evil Spirit of the Plains."

The exhibition, which will be given here on Saturday next, combines a host of western celebrities: Apaches, Pawnees and Washoe Indian warriors, a round up of western cowboys, a company of prairie scouts, a group of Mexican Vanguers, a crowd of Indian ponies, a drove of Texas steers and a herd of wild horses. Dr. Carver, in this exhibition, gives life-like pictures of wild American life on the western frontier. The salient features of the entertainment are: A grand parade of principal characters, equestrian entry, the starting of the pony express, quarter mile races between Mexicans, cowboys and Indians, one hundred yard race between Indians on horse and foot, riding and subduing of wild and bucking horses, attack on the overland mail coach by road agents and Indians, half mile race with Indians, ponies and thoroughbreds, Indian scalp and war dance followed by the original ghost dance for the first time outside of the reservation, exhibition of marksmanship by Dr. Carver, "spirit gun," lassoing and riding wild Texas steers, concluding with an attack on a settler's cabin by Indians and cowboys, and a rescue by Dr. Carver with his scouts, cowboys and Mexicans.

There will be a parade on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Commission Names the Salt Lake County Committee.

The commission have named the following gentlemen to act as a preliminary board of directors for the Salt Lake County World's Fair association: J. E. Deane, Ed. Egan, H. J. Grant, C. P. Mason, F. W. Jones, J. D. Spencer, Fred Trimmer, H. L. Guimer, Elias A. Smith, Simon Bannister, Albert Young, W. Carlson, James Sharp, C. E. Wandland and F. K. Gillespie, secretary.

The usual number of directors is eleven, but owing to the size of the county they made it fifteen. After they get 100 members they will organize permanently.

OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPHER.

How He Will Be Connected With Utah at the World's Fair.

James H. Crookwell has been made official photographer for Utah at the World's Fair. He will visit every mining camp in the territory in order to make views of the scenes incident to mining life, both above and below ground. "My idea," he said, "is to take the best of the world at Chicago, in connection with Utah's mining exhibit, the entire process through which ore passes from the time it is mined until it becomes a useful article. In addition to this there will be views of all the big mining machinery, and of cuts and levels, tunnels and shafts."

Mr. Crookwell is probably one of the best men in the west to whom the work could have been entrusted. He has made mining viewing a specialty for ten years past, and has been very successful. He was recommended to the Utah commissioners by the leading mining men of the territory as being the most available view artist, and when the project was explained, the commissioners thought so well of it that they decided to use the camera in other departments, and, therefore, made Mr. Crookwell official photographer of all departments. The gentleman will enter upon his labors in a few days.
